

Here are 236 names (and some ages) that we have collected of Jews from Uherske Hradiste who died in the Shoah. They are mainly from two sources: the archives of testimony from the Yad Vashem, which houses more than 100,000 individual testimonies filled out for victims by survivors. Some include pictures and other information. By searching for “Uherske Hradiste,” we found about 60 names that listed the town as residence.

In addition, Beit Terezin (Beit Theresiendstadt) in Israel provided names of people from Uherske Hradiste (from German records) who had been transported to Auschwitz from the Terezin concentration camp. Some of the names from Beit Terezin do not match the ones from Yad Vashem. We decided, of course, to include all of them.
